SETS ASIDE PARK SITE FOR CITY

Frank Meline Co. Reserves Four Glenoak Lots as Gift to Glendale

Glendale is to have a new city park and neighborhood center in Scholl Canyon and a new boulevard to Pasadena. City Manager W. H. Reeves announced these facts this morning at the city hall.

The Glenoaks Syndicate is now preparing to dedicate four lots or two acres of its tract to the people of Glendale for another city park. This property is located a short distance north of Sierra avenue near the site of the present National Guard rifle range. It is picturesquely wooded and it is believed that it will make an ideal sylvan picnic grounds.

The Glendale Realty Board and city officials will inspect the property at noon tomorrow when they will be guests at a barbecue given by Frank Meline company, selling agent for Glenoaks tract.

Rustic Clubhouse

A rustic clubhouse is to be placed upon this site at once by Frank Meline, who will use it temporarily as an office and then dedicate it to the city of Glendale. This will cost approximately $7000. The interior will contain a room 12 by 20 feet in size and rest rooms. A perspective view of this log cabin clubhouse will be exhibited at tomorrow's barbecue.

The Glenoaks Syndicate also is dedicating a strip of land seventy feet wide through its entire tract so that Sierra avenue may be extended from Sycamore canyon road to the western boundary of the city of Pasedena.

Because of the vagaries of Colorado boulevard it is believed that this new route will prove the shortest route between the Growing-City-in-the-World. It will terminate at Linda Vista boulevard which connects the Colorado boulevard bridge with the Devil's Gate bridge and has been improved for some time.

Other Improvements

The improvement of this new Glendale thoroughfare will not be delayed long, in the opinion of City Manager Reeves. He called attention to the fact that the tract, through which it runs, is being settled by home owners who soon will insist that this boulevard be properly paved.

V. B. Stone of 126 East Elk avenue, assistant engineer, is given credit for the contemplated project. While promoting the dedication of the right of way for the new boulevard, he suggested the advantages of dedicating a park site at the same time. This suggestion was received with interest and acted upon at once by John R. Powers of Los Angeles and C. T. Tryon of Fullerton, controllers of Glenoaks Syndicate.

Four tennis courts are to be installed in the new park at an expense of about $800 as soon as the rifle range has been moved from the tract. It is estimated that this transfer will require about sixty days.

An ornamental drinking fountain will be connected with a bubbling spring of aqua pura.

Caste Conflict Cause Of Big Mass Meeting

TOKIO, March 20. — Tokio sympathizers today planned a great mass-meeting for tomorrow to protest the treatment accorded the Eta, or submerged class, of Japan, and the wounding of many in caste clashes yesterday at the village of Nara.

Martial law proclaimed on the streets of Nara with the arrival of troops sent on appeals to the war minister ended the disturbances, reports stated.

However, soldiers continued today to patrol the streets in Nara to guard against renewal of the caste conflict started when a crowd opposed to the uplift of the Eta caste insulted a bride as she was about to enter the temple.

The women of the village have fled to Kyoto, dispatches from there today stated and despite the presence of troops further trouble is teared.

Fire Destroys Thirty Homes in Florida

KEY WEST—Fla., March 20. —More than thirty homes were destroyed by fire here early today when a stubborn blaze swept over several blocks, doing approximately $90,000 damage. The fire started in a cigar factory.

CHICAGO BANK CLOSES

CHICAGO, March 20.—The Sixteenth Street State bank, with deposits of $580,000, was ordered closed today by the state bank examiner after all its officers resigned.

Two Men Die in Explosion at Plant Of Dupont Company

PITTSTON, Pa., March 20. —The little village of Belina, located a mile and a half from Moosic, were thrown into consternation today when the building known as Packhouse No. 1 of the Dupont Powder Company blew up. Two men were killed instantly and one fatally hurt. The dead are: John Taylor, 48, of Startas, near Moosic; James Graham, 50, of Moosic, married. Mike Lawald, 60, is in a dying condition at his home in Belina village. When the explosion occurred Graham was at his work in the building where he is daily employed.

P. E. BUS LINE FRANCHISE ARGUED

City Officials Listen to Statements; Hearing to Come Again Thursday

Application of the Pacific Electric Railway Company for additions to its bus line franchise in Glendale to care for transportation problems in the northwest and northeast was discussed at the meeting of the city council last night, and, after two hours of argument, was continued to next Thursday night for further consideration, together with the application of C. D. Gulick for a franchise to cover a local bus system now being organizezd.

Headed by Owen C. Emery, president, the Glendale Credit association had a delegation at the meeting. Mr. Emery declared that the business men demand relief from the present inadequate transportation system and told of plans being made by the merchants to install a bus system if action is not soon taken.

Presenting petitions signed by business men and property owners in the northwest section, Godfrey Edwards, of Edwards & Wildey, subdividers, urged the council to grant the application of the Pacific Electric. He said that the railway company was in a position to give immediate action, while Mr. Gulick's organization was not.

Denies Stock Sale

In answer to a statement by Mr. Edwards, the declaration was made by Mr. Gulick that he has no stock for sale.

R W Meeker urged that the northeast section be given additional bus line service. He had secured a petition containing about 170 names. He said he was not advocating the granting of an exclusive franchise to the company.

Councilman C E Kimlin asked G. A. Birmingham, manager of the bus system of the railway:

"If the council grants the additional franchise, will the Pacific Electric aid Glendale in securing a permit for an interurban bus line between this city and Los Angeles?"

Mr. Birmingham was speechless for a moment and then admitted the railway would continue to oppose the city's efforts to secure additional interurban service.

Burning Steamer Off South Coast Asks Aid

NEW ORLEANS, March 20. — The steamship Othis is burning off the Louisiana coast, according to wireless calls received here today. Wire messages from San Francisco, it was learned, brought first news of the distressed steamship. The ship, it was stated, gave her position as a few miles off the mouth of the Mississippi.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE

PORTLAND, March 20.—Authorities today were investigating the mysterious fire which last night destroyed the studio of the American Lifeograph Company causing damage estimated at $40,000.

Uncle John Says:

Me and Mary thinks this talk of startin' a bus system in Glendale is a move in the right direction. An up-to-date city has got to have good transportation facilities, Mary says, and she's glad to see Glendale comin' to the front in this way. We only hope the bus will go past our place.

NEW BRIDGE PROJECT IS DISCUSSED

Santa Monica Board of Trade Representatives Outline Plans

The replacement of the present wooden Ivanhoe bridge with a more durable and ornamental bridge of concrete was suggested last night at the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the Santa Monica Boulevard Board of Trade.

The improvement of Santa Monica boulevard and Hyperion avenue was the topic of discussion. The fact was brought out that this route would provide the shortest connection between the beach and the foothills. It was explained that Hyperion avenue through the Los Feliz hills will have a maximum grade of about four per cent, while a large portion of the distance the grade will be only one and a quarter per cent. These two facts are thought sufficient to make this route one of the most heavily traveled in southern California.

W. I. Castanien of Hollywood acted as chairman of the meeting. He remarked:

"We are glad to meet with citizens of Glendale and we are joining hands with all the organizations along Santa Monica boulevard. We have to do a little pioneering for Glendale but we hope to have it on Santa Monica boulevard before long."

Displays Route

Alfred J. Barnes of Hollywood, who has made several trips to Glendale in the interest of this project, exhibited a map upon which the route was marked and explained the desires of the Santa Monica Boulevard Board of Trade.

"Our particular purpose in being in Glendale tonight," he remarked, "is to awaken interest and enthusiasm in something which vitally concerns Glendale."

The importance of highway connections between Los Angeles and Glendale was emphasized by Mr. Barnes who asserted that, if Glendale had had better connections with Los Angeles, its population and size would be even greater than at the present time. He called attention to the development which followed the opening of Glendale boulevard and expressed an opinion that the opening of Hyperion avenue might have the same effect.

Best Boulevard

In regard to Santa Monica boulevard, Mr. Barnes said:

"We feel that we have the best boulevard by all odds that leads to the beaches. It is best because it has the best grade and because it goes through the best territory. It goes through a territory which, so far as I know, has not a peer in the world. We are seeking an inlet for Santa Monica boulevard and we believe in connecting with Glendale because we believe in 'hooking to a star.'"

Glendale was represented at the session by Jesse E. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce; George B. Karr, chairman of the civics committee; Dr. Jessie Russell, president of the Federated Improvement association; Harry E. White, Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan and S. S. Gilhuly.

Among those present from Hollywood were Seward Cole, J. B. Good, D. R. Patterson, F. C. Schiff, J. G. Cummings, L. J. Durfey, William A. Cline, J. C. Knight, Herbert Scolfield, Mrs. E. C. Holman, A. O. Yankow and Edward Beck.

Factional Struggle in Moscow Is Threatening

STOCKHOLM, March 20.—A state of war may be declared in Russia in order to protect the communist revolutionary regime if Premier Lenine should die, according to news from Moscow today.

Reports from Moscow, taken from the official Bolshevist organ, Izvestia, indicated that a factional struggle was brewing and that it would break out openly if Lenine died.

President Kalenine, of the soviet council, is said to be in favor of granting full administrative powers to the committee of commissars, but he is opposed by Leon Trotsky, commissar for war, and by one or two other powerful members of the Moscow government.

Lenine Regains Use Of Paralyzed Hand

MOSCOW, March 20.—Nicolai Lenine is regaining the use of his right hand, which was formerly made useless by paralysis, it was reported today.

"The movement of Lenine's right hand is improving. The impediment of speech is unchanged since yesterday. His general health is satisfactory."

New Subway Plan For Los Angeles to Cost $75,000,000

LOS ANGELES, March 20. —A new subway plan, taking in both the Pacific Electric and the Los Angeles railways, to cost $75,000,000 instead of $20,500,000, was scheduled to be released for publication today, following its approval by the board of public utilities.

The new plan has been worked out and now awaits only the approval of the board of public utilities before it is released. It is understood that the two railway companies have unofficially given their approval to the project.

CHANGES FOR MOTOR LAWS OUTLINED

Senate Committee Listens To Arguments; Budget Hearing Resumes

Special to The Evening News

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—Changes in the California motor vehicle act are being considered this morning in the senate committee, following the public hearing last night.

Assemblyman Charles A. Foster, of Fowler, led the country-delegated opposition to the $2 flat registration fee, pleading that the present licensing system stand.

Assemblyman Heisinger, of Selma, joined with Assemblyman Foster in protesting the prohibition of farm children under 16 from motoring to school.

Engineers estimate that the revenue in 1924 from a $3 registration fee and 2-cent gasoline tax would total $15,830,000, based on 1,100,000 cars and 550,000,000 gallons gas consmption within the state, according to C. C. Cottrell, appearing for the California Automobile association.

Upkeep of Highways

During the hearing Senator A. Burlingame Johnson of Pasadena, claimed the oil companies' use of twelve miles of highway in Los Angeles cost $180,000 for reconstruction, when rail freight would have amounted to only $28,000.

"We should make those who use the roads pay for their upkeep," was Senator Johnson's argument, "for we cannot build highways on twenty-year bond issues without maintaining them."

The law legislative committee of the California Peace Officers' association have indorsed the whole program of the Los Angeles crime commission, Major Walter Tuiler announces. Wardens of penitentiaries, prison boards and others, are invited by Chairman Clarence Morris of the assembly judiciary committee to attend next Sunday night's meeting.

School Budget

This afternoon E. P. Clarke of Riverside, president of the state board of education, and A. R. Heron, chief deputy superintendent, will complete the school budget argument before the joint assembly and senate committee, opened by Will C. Wood, state superintendent of schools, whose main point is that the budget board of control overlooked $919,000 assured income for the next biennium, from the permanent school fund, which under the constitution can be used only for school purposes.

This sum, says Superintendent Wood, is enough to provide ample funds for the support of state teachers' colleges, junior colleges, the deaf and blind school at Berkeley, and the department of education.

Assemblyman Badaracco's bill making it a felony to wear masks was passed out of the assembly favorably, with slight changes of a nature insuring it will not affect the regalia of lodges.

South's Fruit Crops Are Ruined by Frost

ATLANTA, Ga., March 20. — Considerable damage to fruit crops in Southern states was feared today in the wake of the cold snap which gripped this section for seventy-four hours. In middle Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina, except in coastal sections, the fruit will be a total loss, agriculturists declared.

REVOLUTIONARY WORK

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., March 20. —"Questionnaire No. 76," the answers to which the state attributes to William Z. Foster radical on trial here as a syndicalist, was admitted today as evidence. It says that Foster was engaged in "revolutionary work" for twenty-one years.

WORLD TRIP BY AIRSHIP PROPOSED

Flight Around World May Be Taken by Planes Of U. S. Army

By HARRY L. ROGERS
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, March 20.—An around-the-world airplane flight is now under consideration by the army air service, it was learned officially today.

Studies of possible routes already have been made and though still incomplete, these plans have progressed far enough to convince officials the proposed flight is entirely feasible. The army air service also has at least one "ship" which veteran pilots believe is capable of making the flight.

The main route for the flight already has been determined upon, and for certain laps of the prospective trip, alternative routes have been selected. A solution has been found, officials believe, for the problem of the Pacific, hitherto regarded as presenting insurmountable difficulties in the present stage of aircraft development.

Not Across Pacific

No attempt will be made to fly directly across the Pacific, officials sal, but the plane would cross to Siberia from the Aleutian islands, off the coast of Alaska.

Starting at Bolling field, the proposed route passes through the national capital to Detroit, then across a portion of Canada to Alaska, and the Aleutian islands.

A comparatively short flight across the Bering sea would bring the plane to Kamchatka and another of about the same duration across the Sea of Okhotsk would bring it to Vladivostok.

From the Siberian capital, the route lies along the China coast to Singapore, across the Bay of Bengal and the Dekhan of India to Bombay. From Bombay the route would follow the course already laid out by British flyers, across Mesopotamia, up the Mediterranean to Marseilles, Paris and London.

Must Provide Stations

Before the world flight can be attempted it will be necessary, of course, to provide oil, gas and repair stations at fixed intervals along the proposed route, and arrangements will have to be made with the governments of the various territories to be traversed for permission to land where necessary.

Army fliers believe the T-2, the remodelled thick wing monoplane in which Lieutenants Kelley and Macready of the air service, recently set new world's records for distance, is suitable for the flight around the world.

Sugar Combine Probe May Extend to U. S.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Investigations of combination and speculations in Cuban sugar may be extended to the United States, it was learned at the commerce department today.

One of the questions to be considered, it was stated, "is whether or not American citizens can sit on their own soil and conspire in foreign countries."

An investigation of the tariff rates on sugar already has been ordered by the United States tariff commission.

Three Ships Race to Answer Plea for Help

NEW LONDON, March 20. — The Italian steamship Guilia was reported in distress early today and sending S. O. S. calls, giving its position as latitude 41 degrees, 37 minutes north; longitude 58 degrees, 37 minutes west. The steamships West Lake, Tulosa and Tunisian were close by and reported they had gone to her assistance.

Gasoline Explosions Menace Stock Yards

CHICAGO, March 20.—A spectacular fire marked by flares of gas and explosions of numerous gasoline tanks endangered the Union Stock Yards early today. The flames wiped out the plant of the Mercury Manufacturing company and caused damage estimated between $200,000 and $250,000.

FLEE FROM FLAMES

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—Scores of persons were driven from their beds in nearby rooming houses by a spectacular fire which swept through the establishment of the Weber Automobile and Trailer Works in North Spring street early today, causing a loss estimated at $50,000.

City Buys Auto To Collect Dogs Straying on Streets

AN additional auto will be put into service at once by the municipality, according to an announcement by Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of the Glendale police department. He added that this machine will be used for the collection of stray dogs regardless of whether or not they are wearing licenses. He stated that he had been given instructions by the City Council to carry out the provisions of the present "dog" ordinance.

"This ordinance does not give people the right to take dogs out on a leash," remarked Col. Fraser. 'However, if dogs are kept in automobiles, they will not be molested."

German Viewpoint on Ruhr Now Submitted

LONDON, March 20. — Lord D'Abernon, British ambassador to Germany, who is returning from Berlin, is reported to be bringing a document setting forth the "viewpoint of the German government regarding Ruhr occupation." The German embassy, however, denied any official knowledge upon the subject.

Herr St. Hamer, the German ambassador, conferred with Lord Curzon, the British foreign secretary, on Monday night, but neither would say what was discussed. From other sources it was learned that negotiations are under way which may lead to a settlement of the Ruhr problem.

German industrialists are credited with being responsible for the negotiations.

British officials declared that Lord D'Abernon's visit did not have unusual significance, but that he is coming for a brief vacation.

Governor Norman of the Bank of England, conferred in Paris with the governor of the Bank of France upon the payment of 65,000,000 pounds sterling owing to this country by France. This is part of 75,300,000 pounds sterling borrowed by France from England during the war. France asked a ten years' extension to pay the balance.

Lord Carnarvon Ill From Bite of Insect

LUXOR, Egypt, March 20.—The condition of Lord Carnarvon, who is ill from the bite of a mysterious insect, showed improvement today. Lady Carnarvon is coming from England by airplane.

Superstitious Egyptians declare Lord Carnarvon is suffering by a curse imposed upon him because he disturbed the grave of a Pharaoh. It is recalled that when the ancient kings of Egypt were buried, future generations were forbidden to touch the graves.

Russian Communist at Raided Red Convention

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., March 20. —A communist from Russia, named Boris Reinstean, but masquerading as "Delegate Lozinsky," was present at the communist party convention raided last August, Francia Morrow, chief state's witness, testified today in the trial of William Z. Foster, radical accused as a syndicalist. The Russian's mission was "to straighten out" differences between factions of the party Morrow said.

SHOT TO DEATH

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—J. C. Palmer, "double-life" bandit, lay dead at the morgue today, following his being shot to death last night by G. H. Skinner, when Palmer attempted to rob him, police were tracing the bandit's past record in an effort to associate him with the operation of a band of robbers that have terrorized the city for weeks.

CITY COUNCIL DECIDES TO ASK BOND ISSUE FOR BUYING OF LAND

Officials Make Statement And Tell Why Action Not Now Needed On Verdugo Park

PURCHASE of land adjoining the municipal pumping plant on the San Fernando road for the purpose of developing a water supply and using the surface as an aircraft land field will be submitted as a bond issue at the city election on April 10, it was unanimously decided by the City Council last night.

Injunction proceedings now are interfering with the securing of the land by the council through a contract plan of purchase. The Verdugo park purchase, also in the injunction proceedings, will not be included in the bond issue for reasons given by the council in a formal statement issued last night.

The bond issue will be for $49,500. The cost of the land is $66,000. The city has already invested $16,500 in it.

The formal statement by the council follows in full:

"The city of Glendale is now being prevented, by means of an injunction suit brought by one of its taxpayers, from dealing in any way with certain lands purchased by it.

"A number of citizens of Glendale and others have invested their capital in projects dependent on the ownership by the city of the thirty-three acre tract purchased by it in December, 1922, adjoinng the municipal pumping plant on San Fernando road for the purpose of developing a water supply for the city and using the surface for a municipal aircraft landing field, but the city cannot execute leases to these citizens or deal in any way with this property pending the determination of this suit. Further, there is danger that this land, which the city needs as a location for water works, and the surface of which can be used for a municipal landing field and other kindred purposes, the income from which will pay the cost thereof, will be lost to the city.

"In order that the city may not be hampered in the development of its water supply if its purchase of this land should be declared void and in order that those citizens who desire to lease parts of this land from the city may not be held up pending the decision of the court on the injunction suit, the City Council has decided to submit a bond issue for the purchase of this land to the voters. If the voters decide at the polls that the city should purchase this land, then all the technical objections to this purchase raised by this suit will be dismissed.

"The above reasons do not apply to the purchase of Verdugo Park, as the city is not executing any leases on this land and can wait on the decision of the court without any loss of revenue or use of the park. If the decision is adverse to the city, the park can still be purchased by a bond issue. Therefore the council has decided, as to the purchase of Verdugo Park, to await developments.

Debate on Socialistic Principles Scheduled

LONDON, March 20.—The first general debate on socialistic principles of government since Premier Andrew Bonar Law took office is due in the House of Commons tonight, when the resolution of Philip Snowden, laborite, proposing nationalization of industries, is called up.

Many amendments have been offered since the resolution was introduced last week.

Sir Philip Lloyd Graeme, famous British financier, will lead the opposition to the measure.

Meantime, the labor situation in western England is becoming worse and worse. Additional farm workers and miners have joined the workers' strike and the number of idle men is now approaching 50,000.

THREATS OF DEATH

CHICAGO, March 20.—Governor Len Small of Illinois, is accompanied wherever he goes by four armed guards as a result of threats upon his life attributed to Chicago gunmen, it became known here this afternoon.

Beauty Parlors Win Over Barber Shops

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—In a fast one-round bout in the senate yesterday, the beauty parlors whipped the barber shops, and feminine locks may continue to fly at the hands of lady tonsorial experts.

Senator Edgar Hurley's bill, which was amended after sizzling oratory and much "vamping" by the women "lobbyists" of the Southern California Hairdressers' Association, had provided, in reestablishing the state barber commission, that all people who shampoo hair and apply cosmetics be technically known as "barbers."

In answer to the stiff battle put up by the beauty parlor specialists, Senator Hurley finally permitted an amendment to his bill, excluding the beauty specialists and hairdressers from its provisions.

Following this report, the hairpin market at once fell off several points and a large crop of early bobbed feminine heads is anticipated.

Japs Seek to Halt U. S. Wireless Contract

TOKIO, March 20.—It was reported today that the Japanese government is preparing to send a protest to Washington against the continued insistence of United States Minister Schurman at Peking that the Chinese-American wireless contract be completed. Japan has lodged protests with the Peking government against the American contract, claiming prior concessions.

WIZARD IS MISSING

ATLANTA, March 20.—Edward Young Clarke, former imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, was reported by his attorneys to be unavailable when a charge of using the mails to defraud was called for trial in United States district court here today. His $500 bond was forfeited by Judge Samuel Sibley without comment from his attorney, who had been given an hour in which to make arrangements for Clarke's appearance in court next Monday.

Luncheon Hostess

Mrs. Freeman McG. Kelley was hostess yesterday at luncheon at the Harriet Mae Tea Rooms to members of the reciprocity board of P. E. O., of which she was chairman for the past year.

The tables were beautifully decorated in yellow and white, yellow daffodils and maiden hair fern being used. Dainty yellow baskets, filled with candies and daffodil place cards marked the places for the guests.

Covers were laid for Mesdames Ed M. Lee, C. D. Lusby, Walter Stamps, E. W. W. Hayward, Miss Blanche Davenport, Miss Martha Cox, Mrs. Cora Webster and the hostess, Mrs. Kelley.

After the luncheon all adjourned to the home of Mrs. C. D. Lusby where the final business meeting for this year was held. At this time Mrs. Kelley was presented with a lovely bouquet of spring flowers by Mrs. Ed M. Lee in behalf of the members of the board.

Later in the afternoon the following officers were elected for the coming year, Mrs. C. D. Lusby, president; Mrs. Cora Webster, vice-president; Mrs. Archie Parker, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. A. W. Beach, chairman of philanthropy.

Women's Auxiliary

A special booth is being planned by the Glendale American legion post and Women's auxiliary for the coming merchants' exposition, it was announced yesterday at the Women's auxiliary meeting in the legion hall.

The auxiliary members met yesterday morning and spent the time before lunch sewing on the layette supplies. The women plan to have a large supply of layettes for local use and for use by the county council.

At the booth at the exposition the post and auxiliary will arrange an exhibit of the work they have accomplished. The women are planning to buy a fine cedar chest and fill it with beautiful linen. Chances will be sold on the chest, which will be awarded to the person holding the lucky ticket.

At the meeting Monday, April 2, the auxiliary will plan for Decoration day.

Dancing Party

Mrs. Stella Goodman of 645 North Central avenue, entertained Saturday night with a pleasant informal dancing party in celebration of St. Patrick's Day. The rooms were decorated with ivy and green carnations used in profusion. The green and white color was also carried out in the refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Young of Hollywood; James McGlasson and Ralph Miller of Los Angeles; Mrs. Georgia McChuchen, Mrs. Anderson and son LeRoy Anderson, L. D. McKeen, Harry Halfhill, C. E. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. L. Garetson.

Card Club Meets

Mrs. J. B. LaRock of 643 North Howard street, was hostess yesterday afternoon to members of the Monday Afternoon card club. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and during the afternoon Five-Hundred games were enjoyed.

The first prize was awarded Mrs. Emil Johnson, and the second prize to Mrs. Leroy Bradley. Mrs. G. M. Johnson received the consolation prize.

Mrs. La Rock's guests were Mesdames S. H. Waller, E. W. Cizek, Mary Griggs, J. Schoonmaker, Leroy Bradley, Emil Johnson, and G. M. Johnson.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Schoonmaker.

District Meeting

The district meeting of the Rebekahs is scheduled for Tuesday night, April 3, at 8 o'clock, in the Glendale Odd Fellows' hall, 201-A West Broadway.

As the district meeting is a school of instruction in the Rebekah degree, and all members from Los Angeles are expected to be there, this is a very important meeting.

Further announcement will be made later by Mrs. Loretta Schwitters, noble grand of the Glendale lodge.

Visits Relatives

A large company of relatives and friends greeted Mrs. Edwin Curtiss, known on the stage as Ollie Cooper, yesterday afternoon, when she arrived in Glendale from New York for a four weeks' visit. Mrs. Curtiss was to have reached Glendale Sunday, but midwestern blizzards delayed her train.

From the depot Mrs. Curtiss was taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Carrere at 1152 North Louise street, where dinner was enjoyed.

Two large tables were arranged in the living room of the Carrere home. A profusion of pink sweetpeas decorated the tables for the five course dinner.

Seated about the tables were Mrs. Curtiss, Mr. and Mrs. Carrere, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Dobson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Landers Stevens, George and Jack Stevens, Jr., Harry Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Horne, Charles Little, Miss Robb and Mrs. Hannah Stevens.

Mrs. Curtiss is to spend a month in Glendale.

FIRM TO SUPPLY HARDWARE NEEDS

New Plant Is Erected to Meet Demands by Local Builders

A new industry has come to Glendale, said to be new not only to Glendale but to the Pacific coast.

It is the factory of the Victor Manufacturing company, at Harvard street and San Fernando road, now completed except for the installation of machinery, which is rapidly being accomplished.

The new plant will turn out butts, hinges and builders' hardware in general.

"Anyone in any way connected with the building business here in Glendale must be aware that builders' hardware is and for some time will be at a premium," states Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, of 317 North Brand boulevard, who is one of those interested in the Victor Manufacturing Company.

Big Demand Now

"This factory will fill a long-felt want," states Mrs. Richardson. "Some lines of builders' hardware are almost impossible to obtain at the present time. This factory could right now book orders for more goods than it will be able to turn out in the next year, and building seems on the increase rather than on the wane.

"In fact, the future is very promising for a business of this kind."

The company is incorporated for $50,000 and Mrs. Richardson states that a few shares may still be obtained, at $10, by communicating with her at the above address.

L. A. Divorce Rate Is One in Two Marriages

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—Almost one out of every two marriages performed in Los Angeles is wrecked on the hidden shoals of convention, indicate figures compiled from the Los Angeles divorce courts records.

Marriage licenses issued in Los Angeles county during 1922 totaled 13,625, while the number of divorces filed during the same period was 6823.

In Los Angeles county actual increase in separation suits for 1922 over 1921 was 753, and the increase in marriage licenses was 917.

Suicide Tries Three Routes, Fourth Wins

MARSEILLES, France, March 20.—George Trucher, a veteran of the war, decided to commit suicide, so he "played safe" by using several approved methods.

First he drank large quantities of liquor to give himself courage, then saturated his clothing with kerosene and applied a match to them. Enveloped in flames, he aimed a revolver at his head and pulled the trigger. The bullet missed, so Trucher jumped out of a window on the third floor of an apartment house to the court below. He died as the result of a fractured skull.

California Scientist Is Missing in London

LONDON, March 20.—J. W. Stacy, of San Francisco, a well-known botanist, was reported missing today. He came to Europe to conduct investigations. Last Thursday he left his hotel and has not been seen since.

MAN, 73, CLIMBS MOUNTAIN TRAIL

Green Verdugo Hills Fail to Daunt Veteran Hiker And Friend

Just to offer a striking contrast to the boast being made in a nearby city of infant prodigies who stand and walk alone at the ages of two and three months, Glendale is claiming a live hiker of three score years and ten and a bit more, in the person of W. B. Neigh of 328 West Vine street, who yesterday afternoon hiked to the top of the Green Verdugo Hills in two hours.

Mr. Neigh, who is 73 years of age, hails from Cleveland, Ohio. Since coming to Glendale a few years ago he has cast many longing glances at the trail over the Verdugo Hills. Not long ago while entertaining his old Cleveland friend, W. W. Watson of Hollywood, Mr. Neigh challenged his friend to a hike on one of the fine spring days.

Yesterday Mr. Watson dropped in for a visit at the Neigh home and the beauty of the afternoon inspired the long talked of hike.

Driving in Mr. Watson's car to the foot of the hills the two "boys" 73 and 54 years of age, ambled up the hillside, reaching the summit in two hours and enjoying the wonderful view of the surrounding country.

They arrived home just in time for supporter and report their little jaunt as a fine appetizer.

Subjects of Hadden's Next Sermons Told

Dr. Robert A. Hadden will deliver another evangelistic address tonight at the Glendale Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock. These meetings are proving very popular with church people from all parts of Glendale, and record crowds are predicted for the remaining meetings this week.

At the service this afternoon Dr. Hadden spoke on "The Problems of Jonah," answering the question, Was it a miracle or myth? At the service tomorrow afternoon he will speak on "The Problem of the Gospels," answering the question, Is there a specific divine purpose in their present arrangement?

Last night Dr. Hadden spoke on "Prayer." He said in part: "Prayer is the Christian's birthmark. It is a divine characteristic and a divine heritage. What will prayer do? It will bring help in time of trouble."

Who's Dowdy Now?

The woman who is wearing a makeshift corset, or, horror of horrors, none at all!

Her uncontrolled flesh makes merry at her expense. It softly rolls itself over her abdomen, it spreads out over her hips and thighs and lumps itself prominently upon her back. Is it any wonder her expensive gowns look mediocre and style-less.

REHEARSING FOR EASTER SERVICE

Chorus Meets Tomorrow in High School Music Department

A rehearsal of the chorus which will take part in the Easter sunrise service will commence at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow night in the music room of Glendale Union high school.

J. B. Poulin of Los Angeles, director of the Ellis and Lyric clubs, will have charge of the rehearsal. The anthem will be "Unfold, Ye Portals." There will be an Easter hymn, also.

R. E. Tucker, local director of Community Service, announced this morning that invitations were extended to all those desiring to take part in the chorus to attend the rehearsal. He stated that high school glee clubs would participate.

Buglers, under the direction of Eddie Moniot of 408 South Brand boulevard, will be stationed in various sections of the city to herald Easter dawn.

Attorney W. C. Anspach of 111 East Broadway will give a cornet solo as part of the Easter services.

Credit Assn. Hears Committee Reports

Members of the Glendale Credit Association heard the reports of several committees at their regular weekly luncheon yesterday, among them being that of the committee on the Merchants' Industrial Exposition, which reported that the liability assumed by the Glendale Credit Association and the Glendale Chamber of Commerce in connection with the exposition had been covered by the sale of reservations in the project.

The committee on transportation, which has been looking after the proposed inauguration of a bus system here, also reported, but as the question of the installation of a bus system in Glendale was to be brought up before the City Council at its meeting last night the committee was requested to attend and to lay the association's side of the question before the city authorities.

Swedish Diplomat Is Married In Secret and declared that he was opposed to any franchise that would prevent the city from securing interurban bus line service.

Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson also rapped the railway and promised the northwest section it would be given service even though the city had to establish a bus line of its own.

Mayor Spencer Robinson, too, scored the railway and declared: "Every time Glendale is about to establish an interurban bus line to relieve traffic congestion the Pacific Electric steps in, with tears in its eyes, and prevents us from getting action. Now the Pacific Electric is crying for a franchise from us. We will not be rushed into giving it something that may interfere with our efforts to get interurban service and lower rates."

Hal Davenport and several others in the audience pleaded for the granting of the application. Owen Emery, as spokesman for the delegation from the Glendale Credit Association, took the position that what the business men want is a service that will deliver people into the business section of Glendale, and, too, that lower fares on the interurban line is an immediate need.

Demand Service

"The merchants want service, not necessarily the Pacific Electric, but service," declared Mr. Emery. "We have a committee investigating the establishment of a local bus system, backed by business interests, and, no matter what section is taken, we are determined to have adequate local service."

Mr. Gulick explained he was not ready to proceed with the hearing of his application for a franchise, as his attorney, Mattison B. Jones, was unable to be present because of illness.

The entire traffic question, the council decided, will be again argued next Thurcday night.

Wall Paper Patterns Attractive and Varied

The colorful and artistic new wall paper patterns, both domestic and imported, now on display in the windows of the Glendale Paint & Paper company, 119 South Brand boulevard, are only a sample of the hundreds of attractive patterns within the store.

"We have put in nearly 300 new patterns this year," states Manager William Hunter, "in order to be in a position to meet every Glendale wall-paper demand.

"The papers this year are much more beautiful in design and color, and far finer in texture, than heretofore. Particularly are the English patterns beautiful, carrying a tone of richness and taste satisfying indeed."

In addition to the large stock of wall-papers carried, states Mr. Hunter, the store offers a complete line of Berry Brothers' varnishes, Tibbetts-Oldfield paints, together with a large supply of artists' materials, pictures, frames and numerous other household fixtures.

Believed Executed, Discover Nurse Safe

Mme. Ada Bodart is an English nurse who married a Belgian. She was a lifelong friend of Nurse Edith Cavell and was tried with the latter in Brussels by the Germans for aiding in the escape of wounded Allied soldiers. Nurse Cavell was executed, and Mme. Bodart for a long while was believed to have suffered the same fate. After the armistice it was learned she had been sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment, and she was freed by the Germans when war prisoners were released. She is shown here wearing many of the decorations awarded her by the British, French and Belgian governments for her heroism in the war.

Army Scientist in Suicide Attempt

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Captain Clarence O. Stimmel, 43, noted vaccine expert assigned to the army medical school here, is in a serious condition today with a self-inclined gunshot wound over his right eye, according to the police. He was found by his wife in the cellar of his home.

Captain Stimmel was due to leave for New York today, having been granted a month's leave of absence because of ill health.

Mercury Climbs in Blizzard Swept East

CHICAGO, March 20.—Rising temperatures and warm winds today had so diluted the blizzard that overswept the middle west Sunday that the weather bureau predicted there would be "no immediate danger of another cold wave."

The mercury climbed ten degrees between midnight and 8 a. m. and at noon still was creeping up.

How SWP Cuts Painting Cost

The only way to buy paint economically is to forget gallon price and figure costs by area covered and years of life.

S W P covers one-third more area than paints which are cheaper per gallon. It lasts twice as long without repainting, so requires half the material and costs half the labor price (for painting and repainting).

So price per gallon means nothing. Area covered, weather resistance, and years of life are the real things that determine price economy. On that basis S W P is the cheapest per gallon outside paint you could buy.

S W P has been the leading prepared house paint for half a century. You will find a complete line of it at our store. Let us figure with you on your house painting.

Postmaster Explains Local Situation In Letter to Evening News

Editor, The Evening News: I desire to express my appreciation, through your columns, to the various individuals and bodies that came to my assistance in my endeavors to maintain their postal service in this city.

We have been given consideration over most other cities throughout the United States, due to our unusual growth which has been recognized in Washington.

I feel also that the many telegrams sent by the Mayor, the Chamber of Commerce, The Rotary, Exchange and Kiwanis Clubs and individuals were of the greatest assistance in obtaining the necessary funds to allow me to continue the service as it has been but which will have to be curtailed to a certain extent by April 1st.

In order that the public may thoroughly understand the situation in view of the fact that the Department has stated that there has been no cut in the regular force of the postoffice, I beg to say that there has been no cut in the regular force but service in this city is maintained only through the full time use of nineteen auxiliary employes, some of whom have been in this capacity since 1921 and are subject to discontinuance at any time. They are practically regular and are necessary employes to the office and the reduction of the necessary allowance to maintain this auxiliary help, as anticipated by the Department, would result in a very noticeable curtailment of service to the public.

In view of the existing conditions in the postal service, I invite the co-operation of the public, anticipating that the improvements that will possibly be made after July 1st will fully compensate them for any possible inconvenience that may be experienced during the June quarter.

Seek Chloral Bandit In Death of Model

NEW YORK, March 20. — A "chloral robber" entered today into the mysterious slaying of pretty Dorothy Keenan King, "Broadway butterfly."

Detectives are searching for a man from Philadelphia, who, it is declared, may know considerable about how the model was murdered in her apartment.

A detective from Philadelphia brought first word of the "chloral robber." He was sent here to trace a man wanted in his city and also in Kansas City for drugging and robbing unsuspecting women of their jewels.

Several robberies similar to the King case have occurred recently in Philadelphia, the detective said. He was here to trace a man suspected of drugging a Philadelphia woman recently and robbing her of $30,000 worth of jewelry. This man, the detective said, was wanted in Kansas City on a similar charge.

FRANCE INSISTS ON GERMAN COAL

Fuel for Factories Must Be Assured, Declare Heads Of Industries

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service
Copyright, 1923, International News

PARIS, March 20.—France will insist that Germany cede out and out property rights to the French in the Ruhr to assure French factories enough coal and coke to carry on the industry, according to conditions laid down today by the Comite de Forges, the most powerful industrial group in France.

This committee is made up of such men as M. Dewendel, M. Schneider and M. Loucheur, who in France, correspond to Hugo Stinnes, Fritz Thyssen and Herr Haniel, in Germany.

An important personage on the Comite de Forges outlined the French industrialists' view for International News Service.

Must Have Fuel

He declared that the committee is not interested in obtaining participation in German industry in the Ruhr, but that the French are determined to own enough coal mines and coke plants to make them independent of Germany.

French industry leaders declare that if the Germans had been victorious in war they would have taken full possession of the Briery coal mines and factories, the most important in France.

Suspect Arrested In Alleged Bandit's Death

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 20.—Sheriff Ellis Jones announced that he had taken into custody a man suspected of the murdering of Ernest Vachon, alleged dope peddler and bandit who was shot to death near Brighton last week. The identity of the suspect has not been revealed, but he is said to have been a former confederate of Vachon.

BUDGET BATTLE IN COMMITTEE

Educators Make Effort to Get More Money From State Treasury

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—The main issue between the Richardson administration and the opposition to his economy budget was drawn yesterday when the portion of the budget dealing with the state's educational department was taken up by the joint session of the senate finance and assembly ways and means committees.

Will C. Wood, who has been the leader in pointing out the alleged damage that would be wrought upon the state's institutions by the application of the budget, as drafted by Mrs. Nellis Brewer Pierce, will present the case for the department of education.

The agricultural portion of the budget will also be up for consideration during the present week.

Members of the legislature returned to Sacramento today from a week-end excursion to the bay district, during which they inspected the University of California and the several projects in San Francisco and Oakland for which the legislature has been asked to make considerable appropriations.

Public Hearings

On the calendar of legislative events this week are a number of public hearings on issues of general interest, among them the question of revision of the state motor vehicle act. Several bills with this in view are up for consideration. These bills contain many important provisions, affecting all the motorists in the state, particularly with reference to increasing the license fees and the limitation of weights of loads carried by motor trucks on the highways.

The question of reapportionment of the state's legislative districts, as provided for in the bill of Assemblyman Edwin Baker of Los Angeles, is also expected to be finally disposed of this week. The assembly reapportionment committee at its next meeting will vote whether to "bury" the bill for good or pass it out to the assembly for a general discussion and roll call vote. San Francisco members today reiterated their previous claim to enough votes to table the reapportionment bill in committee.

FASCISTI AGENTS RECRUIT IN U. S.

Italian Movement Spreading Under Direction of Benito Mussolini

By JOHN L. SPIVAK
For International News Service
Copyright, 1923, International News

NEW YORK, March 20.—Under the personal supervision of Benito Mussolini, premier of Italy, who captured the Italian government by his organization of Fascisti, or "black shirts," as they are more commonly known, Fascios are being organized in the United States by agents sent here from Italy for that purpose, it was ascertained today by International News Service after an extended investigation.

This amazing effort, which already has met with a measure of success, is part of a world-wide movement.

Italians who join the Fascisti in the United States even though they are American citizens and renounced all allegiance to "any foreign king," prince, potentate, etc., when they were naturalized, swear "unquestioning, complete and unlimited obedience" not to the Italian government but to the Italian Fascisti. The Fascisti here aims to embrace every Italian, naturalized or unnaturalized, in its American groups and later, it is declared, if possible, to include other nationalities.

Branches In East

Branches already have been organized by Mussolini's agents in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Bridgeport and Waterbury. All American branches have been ordered by Mussolini to obey the New York branch, the headquarters, which in turn, receives its orders from Mussolini direct through his agents or from the central party bureau's officials in Italy.

Over the objects which the Fascisti aim to accomplish there is now being waged a bitter factional war within the ranks of the organizations already formed

Fire Drives Tenants To Street in Storm

CHICAGO, March 20. — Six families fled into a biting blizzard wind Monday when one of the biggest fires in Chicago within twenty-four hours ended at 6 a. m., swept through a six story apartment house. The tenants were sheltered by neighbors.

The fire was caused, police said, by an overheated furnace, as was the case in most of the ninety others, recently reported.

Any doctor will tell you the health value of ICE!

The best method of conserving food is by means of cold, uniform temperature. Bacterial action is rapid in warm or changing temperatures; and even when deterioration is not apparent, much of the nutritive value of the food is lost.

During these Spring days, when temperature changes are rapid, ice is necessary. The safe way is to keep your refrigerator always well filled.

Ice is inexpensive and essential to good health. It doesn't pay to do without it at any time of the year.

TODAY—Vast fortunes are gambled away annually during the Chinese New Year celebration, writes Edna Lee Booker, Shanghai correspondent.

TOMORROW—British theatrical circles continue to harbor bitter antipathy against everything American, writes David M. Church, London correspondent

By EDNA LEE BOOKER
For International News Service

SHANGHAI, March 20.—Hundreds of thousands of dollars changed hands during the Chinese New Year over the Mah Jongg tables in China.

Chinese New Year began February 15 and was celebrated in Shanghai until February 20, although in the interior cities the holidays last until the end of the month and the opening of the New Year.

Every debt must be paid each year before the opening of the New Year holidays, the last business transaction completed, the doors and windows of the hongs, go-downs and shops barred.

The holiday time is given over to gambling, calling on friends, feasts and theatrical performances. The gambling game especially favored by the Chinese is Mah Jongg, although in the port cities "po-kuh," or real American poker, is very popular.

Thousands of dollars are won or lost in an hour because of the largeness of the stakes. Men who have been wealthy at the beginning of the holiday season are often bankrupt by the first day of the New Year. Last New Year one wealthy young Chinese lost three-quarters of a million dollars playing Mah Jongg and in despair killed himself.

The fascinating game is said to have been invented by a Chinese general who wished to keep his soldiers contented and occupied during times of peace. The game has been improved until today it is popular not only with the Chinese, but with the Europeans and Americans as well.

In Shanghai the American community is mad about the game. Every afternoon the women of the business community play at the various Mah Jongg teas, which begin at 3 o'clock and last until 7:30 or 8 o'clock, while the men play at the various clubs.

The sets are made in the native city in several shops. Each set passes through several small shops and the hands of a number of workmen before it is completed. The shin bone—and the shin bone is shipped to China in large quantities from America—is cut and carved to the proper size in one shop. Another shop featuring ivory goods, carves the ivory (if ivory is used), and a third shop carves the bamboo. A separate shop glues the bone and bamboo or bone and ivory. The tile is then sent to a shop where the various designs are cut. Another set of men color the characters, the bamboos the winds, the dragons, the circles and the seasons. Still another group of workers polish the tiles. The fascinating boxes in which the sets are packed come from still another shop, and even the counters are made by a distinct group of workers. The majority of the sets are made of bone and bamboo. The set made entirely of ivory, without the bamboo back, costs from $250 up.

Many friends write out from the States as to the possibility of buying a set of Mah Jongg carved in jade. A set made of white jade would cost $6000 to $10,000 and would not be worth buying, as it would not stand the wear. The tiles would soon break. The Chinese get a great "kick" out of a "foreigner" when he asks the shop keeper if he can buy a jade Mah Jongg set.

The other day I heard of a Chinese man who had three wives It seems that they were very unhappy because they needed a fourth woman to join them in their daily game of Mah Jongg.

"Anything to keep my wives contented and happy," said the wealthy merchant. In a few days all arrangements were made and he took unto himself a fourth wife. Peace reigns in the women's apartments of his home, and from early in the afternoon until far into the night his four wives sit playing Mah Jongg and smoking cigarette after cigarette.

NEW SENATORS AT CAPITAL

Three Lawmakers Join Washington Forces

Three new United States senators shown above are: Dr. Royal S. Copeland of New York, Earle B. Mayfield of Texas, and Burton K. Wheeler of Montana. All three are Democrats. Mayfield faces a fight to unseat him on the grounds that he used excessive campaign funds and on the further grounds that he is a Ku Klux Klansman.

SHULER TO TALK AT WOMEN'S CLUB

Luncheon Guests Will Hear Musical Program at Thursday Meet

EAGLE ROCK, March 20.—The Twentieth Century club will hold their annual reciprocity luncheon Thursday, March 22, at the Women's clubhouse. The luncheon speaker will be Rev. Robert (Bob) P. Shuler of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Hal Baly and Mrs. W. R. Pinkney have charge of the luncheon reservations. The afternoon program will be given by Eunice L. Brigham, pianist; Harold E. Shergart, lyric tenor; Elizabeth E. Chase, violinist, and Blonda Banks Colborn, reader.

Stanton Funeral

Joseph Elwood Stanton of 131 South Kenilworth street, Eagle Rock, died March 19, at the Glendale Research Hospital, at the age of 53. He was born at Santa Barbara, California, and is survived by a wife and three children, Mrs. L. A. Swett, Aloysius Ellen, and Nerma Josephine Stanton, also a brother, James Stanton of Taft. Funeral will be held on Wednesday at 4 p. m. at the Little Church of the Flowers under the direction of C. F. Lamb & Sons. Interment will be in Forest Lawn. The Eagle Rock Masons will have entire charge of the services.

Church Plans Work

The women of the Church of Christ held an enjoyable meeting at the parsonage, 130 Valley Drive on Thursday afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock. A plan was perfected whereby all the missionary, benevolent and aid work among the women will be conducted in one organization. The following leaders were elected: Mrs. W. J. Carry, president; Mrs. W. Jeter, vice president; Mrs. C. E. Chamberlin, secretary; Mrs. Charles Cates, treasurer. Miss Margaret Frazee, chairman missionary division; Mrs. C. J. Eubanks, chairman visitation division; Mrs. C. L. Overby, chairman Dorcas division; Mrs. I. H. Durfee, chairman devotional committee.

The meetings will be held the first and third Fridays in each month.

The "Family Album," a comedy, will be given in the annex of the Frist Methodist church on Thursday night, under the direction of Mrs. E. J. Bradner, for the benefit of the church building fund. Mrs. Bradner, as "Mother Almyra Pease," will show her "Ile Paintin's," "Ebin," "The Twins," "The Bride," "The Minister's Son," and other characters will be there in costume.

Mrs. L. E. Hammond will sing several old-fashioned songs. Mrs. Smythe will give violin numbers, and Mrs. Wittefelt will also sing.

Mrs. M. T. Lee, president of the Twentieth Century club, Mrs. H. F. Henthorne, Mrs. Edna Parkinson and Mrs. C. W. Hunt, were Washington Heights women's club luncheon guests, recently, at the Hotel Maryland, Pasadena, the occasion being their annual reciprocity day. Mrs. Lee also attended the reciprocity day of the Eastside Whittier club at Whittier last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Oursler of Council Bluffs, Iowa, who have been spending the winter with their daughters, Miss Oursler and Mrs. Miller at 134 North Castle avenue, left Monday for their home.

FRUIT BLOSSOMS TELL OF SPRING

Country Around Glendale Is Riot of Color When Buds Are Open

California in spring is always one of the beauty spots of the world and this year Glendale has a corner on a big part of the beauty, for a truly wonderful garden scene is presented by Sycamore Canyon, where countless pear, apricot and peach trees are gay with blossoms and filling the air with delicate perfume.

Residents and travelers out Sycamore Canyon way report that the sight is beyond description, the soft creamy, white and shell pink blossoms of the fruit trees creating a wonderful picture of spring time.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BOB CAT'S TRAP

One day when the bad Bob Cat was out walking in the forest, wishing he had something good to eat, all of a sudden he reached the cave of the Fox. The Fox was scattering dirt and leaves around the doorway of his den, as if covering something up.

"What is going on here?" asked the Bob Cat. "Was there an accident?"

"Sort of," answered the Fox.

"What sort?" asked the Bob Cat.

"I tried to catch Uncle Wiggily in a molasses trap," said the Fox, "but the little ant told him about it and the rabbit didn't come in to have his ears nibbled. Now I have to cover up with dirt and leaves the molasses I spread, for it's so sticky that I get stuck in it myself every time I go in and out."

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the Bob Cat.

"What's the matter?" asked the Fox.

"To think of trying to catch Uncle Wiggily with molasses!" laughed the Bob Cat. "That's pretty good. Ho! Ho!"

"Perhaps you think you can set a trap that will catch the rabbit so we may nibble his ears," sneered the Fox, sarcastic like.

"To be sure I can," said the Bob Cat.

"The Wolf and I couldn't," spoke the Fox.

"You went at it wrong," snickered the Bob Cat. "He has too sharp eyes to be fooled by you. Now what you want to do is to get Uncle Wiggily's glasses away from him. Then he can't see what is going on and he'll easily be caught in a trap. I'll do it. Leave it to me."

"But if you go near him to take his glasses he'll see you and run," said the Fox.

"I'll not take his glasses—I'll get the sly weazel to do that," whispered the Bob Cat. "And when the glasses are gone I'll find a way to get Uncle Wiggily into my trap."

"Let's see you," cried the Fox, and the Bob Cat made his plans. He got his friend the weazel to help, and one day when Uncle Wiggily set out to look for an adventure the weazel sneaked up behind the bunny rabbit and took his glasses.

"Now he can't see the Bob Cat's trap," whispered the weazel, and he ran off through the woods to tell the Bob Cat to get ready.

The Bob Cat had made what he called a trap near his den. He found a board with a hole in it and then he called the Fox.

"Now, Mr. Fox," said the Bob Cat, "when Uncle Wiggily comes along as he is sure to do, stick your tail through the hole in the board."

"What good will that do?" asked the Fox.

"Lots of good," answered the Bob Cat. "Not having his glasses, Uncle Wiggily will think your tail is a dusting brush. He will want to get it for Nurse Jane. But just as he comes up and reaches for your tail that is in the hole, you pull your tail out! Uncle Wiggily will be so surprised that he'll stand still and I'll jump out and catch him. Then we'll nibble his ears."

So the two bad animals made ready. The Fox stuck his tail through the hole in the board, hiding beind it himself with the Bob Cat. Along came Uncle Wiggily without his glasses. Dimly he saw the waving tail of the Fox.

"Ah, ha! There is a dusting brush for Nurse Jane!" said the bunny gentleman out loud, and the Fox and Bob Cat hearing this, snickered to themselves. "I'll get it for her," went on Uncle Wiggily. "Or since I am in a hurry to look for my glasses, which I must have lost, I will fasten the brush here so it can't blow away and Nurse Jane can come and get it when she is ready. Yes, I'll fasten the brush here."

"There's a dusting brush for Nurse Jane!" said the bunny.

So saying, and before the Fox and Bob Cat knew what he was doing, Uncle Wiggily took a clothes pin from his pocket, and snapped it on the tail of the Fox that stuck through the hole.

"There!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily "That will keep the brush from blowing away until I send Nurse Jane after it."

And away hopped the bunny, and on account of the clothespin on his tail the Fox couldn't pull himself loose from the hole in the board.

"Oh, wow!" howled the Fox, when Uncle Wiggily had gone. "Is this the best trap you can set Mr. Bob Cat? Oh, take that pinching pin from my tail! Take it off! Oh, wow!"

And filled with sorrow and shame, the Bob Cat did. His trap didn't work after all. Nurse Jane was quite surprised, later in the day, when she went to get the "brush" Uncle Wiggily told her he had pinned fast for her. It was gone for the Fox took his tail away.

"I think it was a trick of those bad animals," Nurse Jane said, and so it was. Thus the bunny's ears were saved once more, and if the snow ball doesn't hide under the doormat and trip up the milkman when he brings the cream for the cat's breakfast. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Tommy's kite.

THEATRES

The GLENDALE

"One Exciting Night," now showing at Glendale Theatre, is D. W. Briffith's answer to the eternal demand for "something new."

The film is a United Artists release by this great producer, with Carol Dempster in the stellar role, supported by a typically fine Griffith cast.

For sheer entertainment, one pauses to wonder when there has come to the screen such a film as "One Exciting Night." Romance? Why, it simply abounds in it! Thrills? They are there galore. Beauty of scene, intensity of drama, suspense, heart-appeal? They are all there, in generous measure. D. W. Griffith is one producer who mixes into his celluloid repast all the ingredients whose taste is dear to the public—and he does not stint.

The T. D. & L.

Jackie Coogan, in Frank Lloyd's adaptation of Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist," presented as a First National attraction, shows at the T. D. & L. Theatre for the last times today.

Lon Chaney's performance of the role of Fagin will add laurels even to that much and deservedly bedecked actor, while the work of little Jackie himself is perfect.

The picture is described as the most ambitious in which the juvenile star has ever appeared, and to see it is to have this description amply borne out. The film exerts the universal appeal of innocent boyhood beautifully portrayed, in contrast with evil forces.

The United States lost far more soldiers in the Civil war than in the World war.

APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN, RADIO ENGINEER

VACUUM TUBE SOCKET

A vacuum tube socket must be more than a tube mounting device. It must meet the right requirements of radio. The best features of socket design are incorporated in our Type 156 vacuum tube socket.

The base is of heavy molded bakelite providing adequate insulation. The springs are of bronze, nickel finished. They are so arranged as to make positive contact on the sides of the tube prongs. As a wiping, spring contact is made, a clean, positive connection is assured.

These contact springs are heavy enough to carry, without arcing or heating, the heavy filament current of the 5-watt oscillator tubes.

The tube and terminals of this socket are of brass with polished nickel finish. The arrangement of the base is such that this socket is adapted to any of the standard American four-prong tubes; including those transmitting tubes which have the locating pin placed 45 degrees away from normal.

RADIO DEVELOPMENT

BY LIEUT JOHN R. IRWIN
U. S. AIR SERVICE (RESERVE)

TUNING TO RESONANCE

There is a great similarity in the methods employed by the violinist tuning his violin to a piano, as told in the immediately preceding article, and the radio operator in tuning his receiver to a distant transmitting station. The violinist has four strings to his violin, each of which has to be tuned to emit a certain note when touched by the bow. That is, each string must be stretched to such a degree of tautness that it will vibrate at a definite rate when the bow is drawn across it. Like the radio operator, the violinist has a number of little handles or knobs on his instrument which have to be turned backwards and forwards when tuning in. Each string on the violin is connected to a little handle which, on being turned in either direction, increases or diminishes the tautness of that particular string.

There are certain factors that determine the pitch of the note that will be emitted by any particular string when vibrated. One of those factors is the length of the strong, and another is the tension of the string, i. e., the extent to which it can be stretched; thirdly, there is the quality of the material of which the string is made. This latter factor cannot, of course, be altered at will. The amount of tension can be, and is, altered in the manner referred to above. The length of the string is also altered by the violinist in the act of playing. He places his fingers at different points along the strings and thereby effectively alters their length, with the result that different notes are emitted as the bow crosses the strings.

BEAUTY CHATS

by EDNA KENT FORBES

ANSWERED LETTERS

Liberty Girls:—When the hands have a tendency to redness during the cold weather, rub dry, coarse salt into them after washing and drying in the usual way. If the skin is inclined to be dry and grimy follow each washing by rubbing into the hands a small amount of any of the lotions that contain honey and almond. Such a lotion is very convenient to use as it is absorbed at once, leaving the skin refreshed, while there will be no oiliness to be removed as there would be if cream or an oil had been used. These lotions, however, merely give a temporary effect, but that is all that should be needed ordinarily.

Dolly: — Spirits of camphor should not be used on a dry skin, as it would increase this tendency. The mixture of rose water and glycerine is best for the hands, creams are needed for complexion. Perhaps you are using a vanishing cream on your face which could account for that condition; if so, change to an oily cream of the best quality, one made from expressed English almond oil. After the skin has absorbed all that is needed remove surplus and close the pores by rubbing over the face and throat a small piece of ice, or if that is not convenient, dashes of very cold water will be a fair substitute.

Sixteen:—At your age there is often a tendency to pimples which is usually only a temporary thing. Keep the system regulated through a simple diet and drink plenty of water.

Miss Mary K:—This dark ring around your mouth shows that your liver is very sluggish. Consult the doctor about this.

Thank You:—With brown hair and eyes accompanied by a clear, dark skin, your choice of colors should be all those found among the autumn leaves.

D. L.:—It would not be objectionable if you did not return the fork to the right hand, if you choose to eat some of the meat while cutting it. The handling of the fork varies in different countries, but since you are an American you will be quite correct if you use the fork in the right hand at all times, except when that hand is needed for the knife in cutting. This American habit of conveying the food to the mouth on the fork from the right hand is being adopted now in England and some of the countries on the continent.

Dissolve the tar in any oil to make it thin enough for the scalp applications.

Mrs. M. M.:—For the fine lines that are appearing under the eyes, feed all the tissues of face and throat by using plenty of nourishing cream. An astringent treatment should be taken also whenever the skin needs it—in most cases this will be once a week. As most lines result from the sagging of the facial and throat muscles, both nourishing and astringent treatments are needed to overcome them.

Tomorrow—Touching Up the Lips.

MOVIE STAR ADOPTS INFANT

She Will Raise Little Boy As Her Own

Barbara LaMarr, movie star, of Los Angeles, is shown in this exclusive picture with the baby boy she has adopted and will raise as her own. "I have more motherhood in my little finger than there is in the whole bodies of those mothers who wonder what I am going to do with the babe," she said. "Do people think because I pose before the camera in a pair of tights and portray the darker sides of life that I am not capable of being a real mother?"

One of Four

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

It was Ed Wylie's idea to assemble in the library all of those who had been in the house when the diamonds were stolen in the hope some clue might develop. He let the captain put the questions, pretending the while to take notes. It was in this room the theft had been committed.

"Of course you all know," the captain's eyes rested a moment on each of the four, "the person who took the diamonds is in the room now."

Mrs. Dabney Greene, stout and dignified, showed her displeasure at the proceedings, but remained silent. At her right her son, Elwood, a thin young man with hair plastered over his forehead, regarded the police captain with a studied air of unconcern. Next to him Hetty, the maid, sat forward in her chair expectant and excited. Mrs. Egan, the cook, was uncomfortable because she was sitting in the library. These four had been in the house.

"It might well have been," said Mrs. Greene, "the diamonds were taken by a burglar."

"No, they weren't." This from the excited Hetty." It may make it harder for me, but I know they weren't. You see, I know the library door and the windows were locked. No one got in from outside."

Mrs. Greene and her son directed curious glances at the girl.

"We will eliminate Mrs. Greene, as the owner of the diamonds," the captain continued. "She would not be expected to steal them from herself. That leaves three."

"You will eliminate my son, too," the mother insisted, and to the surprise of the rest, the captain nodded.

"And I would just like to hear you say I took them." Mrs. Egan leaned forward, her jaw thrust out and an ominous glint in her eyes.

The captain nodded again. Hetty broke into tears.

"I didn't take them, I ddn't. Always they blame the maid, but I didn't do it."

At a signal from Ed the captain rose.

"I would like just one word with Mrs. Greene alone and then we will be going," he said, and he smiled assurance at the frightened Hetty.

"Mrs. Greene," it was Ed who took charge when the rest had gone; "Mrs. Greene, why did you take your own diamonds from the safe?"

The woman who had been dignified turned pale, then moved her chair closer.

"It was no crime," she said in a low voice as if afraid someone beyond the door might be listening. "I needed the money and intended to pawn them and I did not wish Elwood to know. You see he expects they will be his some day."

Ed nodded. "But now," he said, "the alarm has been given and, as you have said you have not pawned them yet, why don't you 'find' them and end the mystery?"

Mrs. Greene eyed the man suspiciously and with fear.

"Why," he continued, "did you telephone the police?"

"I didn't," she said, "until Elwood came in with the discovery the diamonds were gone. He said he found the wall safe door open a crack and the jewels gone and asked me if I had taken them out. When I said I had not he insisted the police be notified.'

"But—" Ed insisted, then stopped. Mrs. Greene had risen.

"I will say nothing more," she said. "A woman has a right to take her own jewels from her own safe. There is nothing more for you to do."

Outside, the captain turned to Ed.

"Do you think," he said, "she really took them, or is she defending her son?"

"A little bit of both," the lad answered. I think she knows she locked the safe after she took the jewels and is asking herself how it came the son opened it later in the night."

For "Alice E.:" Wholewheat Bread—One cup of scalded milk, one teaspoon of butter, one-half teaspoon of sugar, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-half cake of compressed yeast and about three cups of wholewheat flour. Put the scalded milk into a bowl with the butter, sugar and salt; when the milk has cooled to the lukewarm stage, add the yeast dissolved to the luke-warm stage, add the yeast dissolved in one-third cup of lukewarm water. Then stir in the three cups of flour. It should now be stiff enough to hold its shape. Mix well but do not knead. Cover and let rise till double in bulk, then turn it out onto a floured board and knead it only enough to form it into two loaves. Place these loaves into two greased pans and when once more double in bulk, bake in a hot oven for 35 minutes. This bread takes in all, between four and five hours to make. If your local grocer does not carry the wholewheat flour, send me a s. a. e. and I will send you the name of a firm which sells it in small bags by parcel post. Many women have success with this wholewheat bread who fail on the white bread.

For "A Reader:" — I should think your living room floor would take a 9 by 12 foot rug best. That will give you a generous border on all sides of it.

For "Young Housewife"—Use six slightly rounded tablespoons of ground coffee in your percolator and four cups of water. It also pays to buy a good brand of coffee. You know the brand has everything to do with the success of the beverage.

For "A New Mother"—I have searched everywhere for the knitting directions you wish — but without result. I am sorry to disappoint you.

For "A Daily Reader"—In reply to your letter asking me to print an appeal for short-cake fillings, I am going to ask our Reader Friends right now, how many different kinds they use? Perhaps they will be kind enough to send me some unusual ones, to publish here for the benefit of all. Just write them on a postal and mail it to me.

They Say That

Placing a mail receptacle in front of your house, or having a slot put in, may seem a trivial matter to you. But, because patrons of the postal service attend to this little detail, the United States government is enabled to effect total savings of more than $5,000,000 annually. This convenience of receptacles cuts down the time of carriers in delivering mail, and means literally a saving of money to the government. While patrons are required by the government to provide these places of deposit for the mail, yet no complaint of consequence has come. The people, on the whole, acquiesce cheerfully and graciously in the plan.

There should be, at all times, the spirit of helpful co-operation on the part of the people toward the postal authorities in promoting the expansion and betterment of mail service, and in conserving the comfort of the carriers and clerks engaged in postal work.

Diet and Health

SPIRITUALITY VS MATERIALITY

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

TAPE WORMS

Have you got a tape worm? If you have you know from my previous article that you have eaten some fish, pork or beef that has the cystic form of the tape worms in its flesh.

Inordinate hunger has always been considered a symptom of tape worm. The saying, "I must have a tape worm, I eat so much," is as familiar as Job's turkey is poor. (What does that mean?) And the man who used to order one steak for himself and one steak for his tape worm is well known in fiction.

As for the other worms, the only way to diagnose tape worms is to find evidence of them in the bowel movements. If you have a tape worm you will find segments of the worm, if it is at the stage at which they begin to break off. And the worm eggs can be discovered thorugh a microscopic examination.

The treatment for tape worm is drastic and should be supervised by a physician, especially if it is a child that is to be treated. However, I shall tell you of a standard treatment given by a recognized authority, Stevens, because some of you who might be entertaining a tape worm may be inaccessible to a physician.

Treatment—First: Liquid diet of broths or fruit juice for two or three days, to clear the intestines of food residue so the worm medicine can get a chance at the worm and make it loosen its suckers (and hooklets if it is a pork tape worm).

Second: At night before the day of treatment take a good purgative. Not castor oil if aspidium (male fern) is used as a vermifuge for castor oil favors the absorption of the poisonous properties of the drug by the system, and it is the worm and not you that is to get this treat.

Third: In the morning, still fasting, go to bed for the day—to prevent, if possible, any vomiting. Take one-half to two drams of the oleo-resin of aspidium, divided into six capsules. Take one every hour. For a child the smallest dose should be given. Another vermifuge for tape worms is pumpkin seeds. Take two or three ounces of shelled pumpkin seeds. You can take them mashed with a little honey or jam.

Fourth: One hour after the last dose, take another dose of purgative, unless the worm has come away by this time. If the worm should be found hanging out of the rectum an enema of warm water can be given. Do not pull it. It is wise to sit on a vessel containing some quite warm water as the heat will cause a greater relaxation of the worm. As it is important to know whether the head has been dislodged and has accompanied its segments, the bowel movement should be mixed with water and strained through a gauze cloth, not coarse enough to let the head— which is the size of an ordinary pin head—go through it.

If the head does not come away, then the worm grows again. And the treatment will have to be taken again in two or three months, or when the segments begin to come away again.

Stevens says that the treatment should not be given during pregnancy, acute inflammation of gastro-intestinal tract, convalescence from acute infections, advanced heart or kidney diseases, or tuberculosis with a tendency to hemorrhage. He evidently thinks the tape worm is less harmful to the patient than the treatment in these cases. (It is a fact that they seem to bother some people not at all.)

To Prevent Getting Tape Worms —First: Careful inspection of the meat at the slaughter houses. You should also personally inspect all meat. Discard any that has little foreign-looking specks in it—"measley" beef and pork.

Second: Thoroughly cook all meats, even smoked and salted meats, in case some infected meats should get by the inspectors.

Third: Disposal of feces of those having tape worms so that animals do not have access to it.

Fourth Become a vegetarian if you like. You can get your protein in eggs, peas, beans nuts, milk products and whole grains. Some experience better health on a vegetarian diet. Others do not.

Personallly, I favor a mixed diet and a good inspection service in my health department.

Army Airplanes Reach Porto Rico In Flight

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The six army airplanes en route to Porto Rico have arrived at San Juan, no untoward incidents having marred the flight, according to a radiogram to the army air service.

Several of the airplanes may continue to the Virginia islands, weathering conditions permitting, air service officials said. This was indefinite, however.

THE DANGERS OF HUMOR

It is a great thing to have a sense of humor.

But it is also,—and this is something many people seem to forget,—a very unfortunate thing to have a sense of humor that is not balanced and controlled by sommon sense and wisdom and kindliness.

Humor is a caustic that wisely used will cleanse away much folly. But, like many caustics, if you apply too large a dose of it, or too strong a mixture, or use it too often it will not only cleanse the sore spot but it will burn and injure the good flesh beneath.

You can make fun of anything or anybody if you don't care how you do it.

You can make anyone appear foolish by exaggerating and ridiculing traits that are in themselves perfectly laudable.

Those Terrible Parodies

You can spoil any piece of poetry or any song, no matter how beautiful, by parodying it. I wonder how many people there are who can hear the magnificent strains of the "Lohengrin" Wedding March without having certain silly words run through their minds (wouldn't repeat them here for anything for fear of spoiling it for those to whom its swelling joy and solemnity is still unmarred!)

You can make any action, however seemly and dignified, appear ridiculous by mocking it.

You can find things in your dearest, truest friend to make fun of, if you are not held back by any sense of loyalty or friendship.

There never was a public man, no matter how devoted, how absolutely selfless, how wise and far-sighted who was not made fun of in his day. Everything that Abraham Lincoln did or tried to do was made fun of by the London Punch. And never did the power of ridicule so abase itself, so poignantly acknowledge its folly and express its regret as Tom Taylor of Punch in his splendid tribute after Lincoln's death, ending:

"Between the mourners at his head and feet, say, scurrile jester, is there room for you?"

They Who Are Lacking

People who can make fun cleverly are apt to become enamored of their ability and to accuse anyone who will not join them in making fun of anything and of everything as wanting in a sense of humor.

Quite as often those whom they accuse are not lacking in a sense of humor but possess a sense of value and proportion and a sense of restraint and loyalty which those who accuse them lack.

A sense of humor is a great thing to have but it is not by any means as big as many other capacities. It is always far easier to draw a caricature than a portrait. Humor is a destructive force and the constructive forces of the world are always rarer and more valuable than the destructive forces.

Easier To Be Malicious

A very little wit will bring a laugh if it is barbed. Kindly wit has to have more genuine humor in it.

A sense of humor is an abused phrase because it covers so many things. It covers the blessed capacity to see the funny side of the annoyances of life and to get enjoyment out of life's contrasts and absurdities, and it also is used to cover the habit of laughing at anything and everything and of making fun of anything and everything without restraint or sense of proportion.

Before anyone boasts of a sense of humor it is well that he account to himself as to what kind it is.

Your Health is at Stake if You Suffer from Constipation!

Every man, woman and child who has constipation or constipation symptoms should leave no stone unturned to get instant relief! Keep away from the dangers of pills and catharties, which are almost as much to be dreaded as constipation itself. Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran because it is ALL BRAN—and it is Kellogg's Bran that will give permanent relief if eaten regularly.

Most cases of Bright's and diabetes can be traced to constipation; in its milder form constipation is responsible for sick headache, nausea, pimples, sour breath, etc. And, we say right here—and guarantee what we say—that Kellogg's Bran, if eaten regularly, will give you permanent relief.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful as a food as well as wonderful as a natural means of relieving constipation. Kellogg's Bran contains important mineral salts; it contains elements that are necessary in making bone, tissue and blood—yet, it acts as a sweeper, cleanser and purifier.

Eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal. You'll enjoy its nut-like flavor. Or, sprinkle it on or mix it with hot or cold cereals. Many like it cooked with hot cereals. Two tablespoonfuls of bran should be added in each instance. You have missed much not to have eaten Kellogg's Bran made into muffins, raisin bread or many other bakery batches. Recipes on every package. Prominent hotels, restaurants and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran.

ANGEL HEADS TO MANAGE SEATTLE

Killifer and Lockhard to Take Over Franchise of Northern Club

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—Baseball circles were agog today over the bare announcement made late yesterday that Wade Killifer, playing manager of the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast league, and Charles Lockhard, business manager of the same club, had resigned their positions and would take over the franchise of the Seattle club.

Marty Krug will succeed Killifer as pilot of the Angels and Oscar Reichow, a Chicago newspaper man, will fill the vacancy left by Lockhard, it was announced.

The entire transaction is said to date back to difficulties between William Wrigley, Jr., owner of the Angels, and Ed Maier of the Vernon organization when Wrigley wanted to make several changes at the local grounds. As a result of this, agents for Mr. Wrigley were ordefed to acquire property for a new baseball park, into which he was willing to sink a million dollars.

Wrigley's Money?

Mr. Wrigley also owns the Chicago Cubs, and it is claimed he had hoped to effect a plan to use players from one team or the other to bolster the clubs. Then came the meeting in San Francisco last year, when Los Angeles, Salt Lake, Oakland and Portland voted in favor of the plan put forward by the Angel owner. San Francisco, Sacramento, Seattle and Vernon voted against the plan.

The bombshell at the annual meeting in Portland in January came when President William McCarthy exploded things by casting his lot with the San Francisco, Seattle, Vernon and Sacramento group when the question of the draft came up and was voted down.

The speculation was here today that Wrigley had perhaps loaned his two faithful employes, Killifer and Lockhard, enough cash to secure sixty per cent of the Seattle club. The other forty per cent ownership is said to have been taken over by John J. Sullivan, a Seattle attorney.

Killifer, it is understood, will manage the Seattle club.

Chicago Boxing Fans See Burman Beat Lynch

CHICAGO, March 20.—Prize fighting exhibitions have come back in Chicago to stay, it was predicted by the promoters today.

Boxing history turned back its pages here last night when 30,000 fans tried to get into Dexter pavilion to see Joe Burman, Chicago bantamweight, win the newspaper decision over Joe Lynch of New York, the champion. They went ten rounds. It was a no decision affair.

It was the first open exhibition of boxing here since the McGovern-Gans fiasco of December 13, 1900.

Will Send Bodies of Aviators Back Home

EL PASO, Texas, March 20.—Preparations have been made here to send home the bodies of K. P. Brown and J. C. Reichenbach, lieutenants in the army aviation reserve corps, burned to death Sunday at Fort Bliss. An airplane, in which they were hopping off, fell.

Several hundred persons looked on Reichenbach, formerly was of Centralia, Ill., and Brown of Portland, Ore. The latter's parents live in Woodford, Maine.

It takes a quick-witted man to know when to say nothing.

Some ambitious people rise from nothing to something worse.

WOOD COWAN
ST PATRICK MIGHT HAVE DRIVEN THE RATTLERS OUT'A IRELAND BUT HE'S GOT NUTHIN' ON ME
IRELAND
ONE OF THE RING'S MOST COLORFUL THUMPERS, THIS HOLDS TRUE IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE
IT'S BAD ENOUGH TO FIGHT AN IRISHMAN, BUT TO SCRAP HIM IN HIS OWN LAND IS SUICIDE

When Battling Siki, the Senegalese freak, knocked Georges Carpentier out from under the light heavyweight crown a few months ago he set the fistic world agog, and for a while he was hailed as a new star among the pushers of the padded mitt.

His career as a champion, however, was a short and stormy one. After being deprived of his title by the French boxing commissioners he was finally reinstated, but no sooner was he back in more or less favor than he made the mistake of his pugilistic life when he took on a bout with Mike McTigue in Dublin for the championship.

The result is history. For twenty rounds the Senegalese rushed and swung in a wild attempt to land a knockout, but the cool, scientific Irish-Canadian veteran pounded the black demon until he slowed up to a walk, and in a final flurry of fighting, when he had the decision on ice and felt that it was safe to take a chance, he waded in and whaled the Battler to a standstill.

McTigue, by beating Siki, has added another title to those that he already claims. These are the middleweight titles of Canada, England, Australia, Ireland and France, which shows that he has covered a lot of territory in the time that he has been fighting.

In spite of his years in the ring McTigue is still going strong, and he has established himself as one of the most finished fighters who ever scraped his feet in the rosin. In his battle with Siki he gave away about 20 pounds, but he overcame the handicap by sheer fighting ability.

But where did Siki ever get the idea that he had any business in the same ring with anyone called McTigue on St. Patrick's Day in Dublin, where "The Wearin' of the Green" had been, for the nonce, sidetracked for that other well known war cry, "Let's Massacre th' Coon"?

SPORTS CHATTER
By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

The attitude of the Major League clubs to insist that players turned over to the minor league clubs must be subject to the draft, caused teams of the Pacific Coast league to give more bushers a chance in the training camps than ever before. All the clubs of the Coast league have done this and it was untried material. The experiment has proved a success and each of the eight clubs of the coast league has discovered talent among the bushers. Some clubs find at least one prospect who can be considered material for the Coast league company while others have found two or more.

The San Francisco club, for instance, brought twenty-three bushers into camp for a trial and the experiment has proved very satisfactory from the owners' point of view. San Francisco will have at least four of these bushers on their regular list and possibly more. As far as San Francisco is concerned the owners would have considered the experiment a success had they discovered just one real good boy, but with four certainties and two others looking like possibilities the owners are jubilant and will renew the experiment in the 1924 season.

One of these boys is a twenty-year-old named Ray Flaskamper from St. Louis. True the boy has played in semi-pro ball, but the class he played with was no better than the average semi-pro classification in California. He has proved brilliant in the field with a very becoming style in-so-far as fielding grounders is concerned. He has also shown well at the bat and is expected to develop rapidly.

Another, and probably the greatest surprise is a lad named Gus Novack. He came to the camp unheralded and not knowing anyone. He was taken on more as a mark of friendship to a supporter of the team and as usual in such cases very little attention was paid to him by the manager and owners. He has shown what he has in no unmistakable way and his fielding ability 'round third base has attracted the attention at last of the fans and the experts. The lad impresses one the minute you see him field the ball. He goes after the ball like a seasoned veteran and accuracy on his throws is another outstanding feature. He is the type of boy who is willing to learn and take instructions.

Those who have seen Phil Tanner work out have likened the recruit to Joe Gedeon and to Bill Leard. He is probably the smallest man on the squad and is a flyweight in poundage, but here is the answer to the quotation that "good things come in small packages." He has natural ability and can play infield with the same precision and accuracy he showns in the outfield.

There are at least three pitchers who stand a chance of making the grade, but, at this time, the one who looks as though he has cinched his job is Tim Buckley. He came into camp with the usual faults of bush pitchers, but, under the eye of Coach Spider Baum, he has ironed out most of his troubles and acts the part of a finished twirler today. Other pitchers with a chance are GeneVan Houtte and George Stanton. The latter is a lefthander, long on ability but shy on control. When he develops the latter experts consider he will be soon bound for the majors.

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

The consensus of opinion among sports writers seems to be that whether or not Babe Ruth is guilty of the recent alleged infraction of the conventions, the fact that he again is named in connection with an unsavory episode is going to give him another black eye. Ruth probably would have had a more patient sympathy of the public had he not acted in such a churlish manner on several occasions last season in connection with the umpires in games. It will be remembered that he was ruled out of the game with a suspension for throwing dirt at one official's face. These little things are not so soon forgotten by the fans.

Three-quarters of a million as a guarantee made to Dempsey for a fight against Firpo in South America, win, lose or draw, is a tidy inducement for the average individual, but it remains to be seen whether it will be of any interest to Manager Kearns, who thinks in terms of millions containing seven instead of six figures. If there is one thing that the boxing game needs at this time more than anything else it is a curb on the ridiculous demands that are being made by such men as Kearns for the services of their fighters. Of course, as long as promoters are going to fall into line and play the game by competing and bidding, huge prices will prevail, but as legitimate promoters can be numbered on the fingers of one's hand, it ought not to be a difficult matter for them to get together and materially reduce the maximum price they will pay even for the best of battles.

While an effort is being made to put over a bill in the California legislature to permit of more than four rounds of boxing, there are few who believe that there is much hope of the thing coming to pass, for the reason that if the bill is approved by the legislators, it will have to come up before the people for a vote. The bill primarily called for 15 rounds, but this was reduced to ten as a compromise, and as being possibly something that would be more likely to be accepted than the longer distance. Boxing practically is a dead issue in the state, and the manner in which the four-round game is at present being conducted is a mere farce. According to the law, only bona fide amateurs are permitted to perform, but no secret is made of the fact that the "medals" being given out are in the form of real coin of the realm, and that the boxers are out-and-out professionals. The authorities merely are winking at the law, which is being shattered to smithereens every week in the year.

If, as recent reports say, that Australia is not going to make a real efofrt for the Davis cup, but will send novices in order to break them in, and Japan may withdraw from the competition, it begins to look "soft" for the Americans.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Chicago.—Joe Burman beat Joe Lynch in ten rounds; Eddie Anderson won over Harold Smith in ten; Mike Dundee beat Patsy Flannigan in ten, and Frank Schaeffer defeated Frank Garcia in ten.

At New York.—Harry London New York, got decision over Billy Rockoff, Brooklyn, ten rounds; Carl Duane knocked out Jackie Coupe in the first round.

At Canton, Ohio.—Johnny Griffith won from Al Walther, twelve rounds.

At Marion, Ohio.—Johnny Rini won from Johnny Horvath, twelve rounds.

At Baltimore.—Eddie Burnbrook and Phil Bloom fought twelve rounds to a draw.

At Troy, N. Y.—Phil Kaplin, New York, awarded decision over Frankie Laureate of Troy in twelve rounds.

Community Property Bill Passes Senate

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—The community property measure, over which the people of the state expressed themslves at the polls three years ago, is again on the way to the statute book, the senate having passed the Jones bill in which the act is embodied, without a dissenting vote.

The new act differs somewhat from that defeated by the people on referendum three years ago.

Under the proposed measure, one half community property of a couple goes to the surviving spouse, but the other half is subject to testamentary disposition, and either the wife or the husband may make a will by which that portion is disposed of.

In case no will is left then this half also goes to the surviving spouse.

Some objections raised to the Jones bill last week by several senators were removed by amendments, and when the measure was brought up there was no argument on it and a united vote for it.

The measure must now go to the assembly and then to the governor before it can become a law.

The United States is now making for its laboratories 800 rare chemicals which were formerly imported entirely from Germany.

Indeterminate Term In Jail for Wife Slayer

CHICAGO, March 20.—John Pleskowicz, 30, has been found guilty of having beaten his wife to death three months ago. He was sentenced to from a year to life in prison. The charge was manslaughter. The policeman who arrested the slayer has been caring for his two small boys, six and nine.

ICE MEN LAUNCH PURE FOOD MOVE

Housewives to Be Told of Conservation Methods During Campaign

In line with the pure food movement throughout the United States is the educational campaign sponsored by the National Association of Ice Industries in which California ice dealers are participating.

In times past, the conservation of perishable foods was little understood. Comparatively few families used ice, and these only during the summer months when natural ice was depended upon. In other words, ice was considered a luxury rather than the necessity which it is.

Meanwhile the conservation of food was receiving the attention of scientists, pure food experts and dietitians. As a result of their investigations, a number of interesting facts were made known. In the first place, the public was informed that the spoiling of food was brought about by bacteria—minute organisms, visible only under a powerful microscope. These germs—which must not be confused with disease germs—float about in the air and lodge in foodstuffs with which they come in contact. Under proper conditions they multiply very rapidly, and it is this bacterial action which causes food to spoil.

The first requisite for this germ growth is warmth. In any temperature above 50 degrees, food-spoiling bacteria multiply by the millions. Consequently, perishable foods kept for any length of time in a temperature of 50 degrees or more deteriorate very rapidly. In temperatures under 50 degrees, however, the bacteria are dormant and do no damage.

Lose Food Values

Another interesting fact which scientists point out is that food subjected to bacterial action loses many of its nutritive qualities long before it shows the usual signs of spoiling. The characteristics of spoiled food do not become noticeable until long after the food has actually begun to spoil, and, for this reason, it is often unknowingly served as pure, wholesome food. Naturally it does not yield the proper amount of nourishment, and in some cases the bacterial action produces poisons—the ptomaines, for instance—which are very injurious to health.

The purpose of the ice dealers' educational campaign is to put such information as this before the public, and to encourage the use of ice all the year around as a means of conserving food and safeguarding health. Moreover, they point out that the use of ice every day in the year is a distinct household economy in that a few cents' worth of ice will easily pay for itself in foodstuffs saved. Advertising space will be used in the newspapers of this state and throughout the country generally.

During the coming months, the ice educational campaign will contain much instructive information of interest to the housewife. And it is the plan of the ice concerns participating in the campaign to make the ice driver an important factor in the welfare of the communities he serves.

Clark Scores Budget Slashes by Governor

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—E. P. Clark of Riverside was re-elected to the presidency of the state board of education at a meeting of the board here yesterday. Mrs. Agnes Ray of Oakland was named vice-president of the board.

In accepting the presidency of the board Clark scored Governor Richardson's slashes in the school budget. He said:

"In view of the administration's attitude the easiest thing for us to do would be to resign as a body. This is a critical period in education, however, and I urge that in behalf of the school children of the state you stay by your posts."

Harding Asks Probe Of Flexible Duties

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Acting upon instructions from President Harding, the United States tariff commission is prepared to order investigations of a number of the important duties provided in the tariff act of 1922, it has been announced.

The commission has received nearly 150 applications for relief under the so-called "flexible" provision of the act, which gives the president authority to raise or lower rates after an investigation reveals that the rate of duty upon a particular article does not equalize cost of production of competing articles produced in the United States.

Alleged Rum Running Vessel Lost In Gale

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—A report was current late yesterday that an alleged rum running schooner may have sunk off San Francisco in a recent gale. The Pescawa is the ship reported to have been lost. She carried a crew of approximately fifteen men. Reports have reached prohibition agents from several sources that great anxiety is felt in rum running circles over the fate of the vessel.

The United States paid France $15,000,000 for the Louisiana territory.

Renew Hunt for Man Sought in Gem Theft

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—A new and thorough search was under way in Los Angeles and southern California today for William N. Barrett, former husband of Alice Drexel, of the famous Drexel family of Philadelphia, who suddenly dropped from sight two years ago after being involved in the mysterious disappearance of a $100,000 pearl necklace in London, belonging to Mrs. John D. Spreckels, Jr.

Soon after the necklace theft Barrett was arrested here and held for two days awaiting word from the London police that he was being sought but when when no word came from the English officers at the end of two days he was released. However, within twenty-four hours after his release here a request was received from Scotland Yard to hold Barrett until officers could arrive to return him to England.

What The Kidneys Do

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—which vary widely but may include pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatic pains, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right the danger is overcome. Doan's Kidney Pills have proven an effective kidney medicine.

J. M. Smith, 1571 East Thirty-third street, Los Angeles, Calif., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills put my kidneys in good condition and I gladly recommend them. I had severe backaches that made it difficult for me to do any stooping or lifting. My kidneys acted irregularly. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon cured me. My back is now well and strong and I have had no further trouble."

STOCKS, MARKETS

NEW YORK, March 20.—Piggly Wiggly was suspended from trading on the stock exchange by the committee on business conduct today.

The wild fluctuations of the issue which skyrocketed from last night close of 72 to 124 and then collapsed to 82 caused a sensation on the exchange and the committee was called into a hasty special session to consider the almost unprecedented violent movements.

The announcement of the committee stated that the action was taken following a conference with counsel for the Piggly Wiggly stores, Inc., and met with his approval.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Piggly Wiggly Stock, long a stormy petrel of the stock market, today caused a sensation, even among the most blase traders accustomed to violent price movements, when it skyrocketed under excited bidding to $124 a share, an advance of fifty-two points from its closing level last night. The stock opened five points higher at seventy-two and gained rapidly.

The business conduct committee of the stock exchange was hastily called into a special meeting as a result of the almost unprecedented price advance. The record of the stock is understood to be under investigation by this committee.

Rumors of a possible corner of the stock began to circulate. President Clarence Saunders of the Piggly Wiggly Company, has been conducting a campaign against the bear traders who started their movement to break the stock when the New York company of similar name closed its doors two months ago.

It is understood Saunders has purchased the big majority of the outstanding stock and has offered some to small investors at $55 a share on the partial payment plan giving him control.

Shortly before 2 o'clock the stock market started to slump about as rapidly as it had moved forward. It fell five points between sales to ninety-five, twenty-nine points below its high mark.

CHICAGO, March 20.—All grains showed fluctuations through the session. Closing prices here today for wheat were one-half to five-eights cent higher; corn one-fourth to one-half cent up, and oats fractionally higher. Provisions firm.

RAID DOPE PEDDLERS

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Large numbers of "dope" peddlers are being rounded up and jailed on the Pacific coast in the greatest drive ever launched by the government against illegal drug dispensers, Colonel L. G. Nutt, chief of the federal narcotic forces, declared this afternoon.

Nutt said during February, 44 alleged drug peddlers were convicted in San Francisco, 30 receiving penitentiary sentences aggregating 77 years.

Presentation Program at Grand View School to Be Held Monday

Glendale Foothill Improvement Association members, Grand View Parent-Teachers Association members and all residents of the northwest section of the city are to participate Monday night in an affair at the school celebrating the formal presentation of the branch library located in the school.

The presentation program is being arranged by representatives of the Foothill Improvement Association and the Grand View Parent-Teacher Association. Members of the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellsperman, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Botsford of the improvement association and Mrs. G. W. Finney, president of the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Ellsperman is chairman of the entertainment committee for the improvement association, and Mrs. Myrtle B. Buckman for the Parent-Teacher Association.

On Monday night members of the city library will be present, representatives of the city library staff and citizens from all sections of the city.

The feature of the evening will be the formal presentation of the branch library to residents of the northwest section of Glendale.

Sanders to Speak at Monrovia Tonight

E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, will attend the annual meeting of the Monrovia Chamber of Commerce tonight, when he will speak on "Selling the Chamber of Commerce." The Monrovia organization is planning to start a membership drive and at the same time they will also attempt to strengthen the reserve funds of the Chamber of Commerce.

Taking Financial Tonic State To Get Benefit See Gold In Sea Water! California Development

By Gil A. Cowan

UNTANGLING California's present finances, especially in regard to revenue, presents a study for even the most expert legislative, legal and economic minds.

The budget act, the Richardson budget and the opposition thereto, and the utter inability of the various boards to tell how much money will accrue during the next biennium are a few of the elements worthy of discussion in themselves, but summed up briefly amount to this:

Under the budget act the new administration was given courage to presume it had the power to apportion the funds; the governor rightfully assumed he knew how much revenue could be obtained, but the methods were dependent on decisions by the attorney general; and he proceeded to order a "suit to fit the cloth."

It is now evident that alterations will be made and the long arms of governmental department get more goods. Changes have been made in several divisions, and when the schools are given hearing it may be apparent that mistakes have been made.

The consensus of opinion indicates that a great deal of good will come out of the "shake-down" the governor has given the department of public instruction, and certainly it is expected that Will C. Wood will be brought to a concrete recital of the actual school needs.

Every fair-minded member of the legislature is going to fight for that which is deserving, but most of them are from Missouri. They are just as inquisitive about Mrs. Nellie Brewer Pierce's assumptions as they are about anyone else's.

You can take it for what it is worth, but the budget fight is the best tonic this state has had in a long time. It has given the people something to think about. It will mean the justification or the correction of those things which many of us are prone to criticize.

And it is due the public that they should be enlightened as to the whys and wherefors. Personally, I must agree with the critics of some sections of the budget, just as I agree with the governor in his criticism of some of the departments.

In agreement there is hope we shall all mutually benefit from the hard work of everyone in trying to bring economy with efficiency to the public administration of the people's communal interests.

The writer has been criticised for apparently favoring the corporations, who provide approximately fifty per cent of the state income, but, as a matter of fact, the corporations should be forced to divest themselves of all the public desires, for, in turn, they get it from the people who are able to pay.

Some day, some place, some one is coming along with an entirely new and more satisfactory system of taxation, but we must commend California on doing very nicely without an ad valorem tax. The governor's statement at the U. C. Alumni dinner in the Palace hotel Friday night that he would oppose any effort to shift the burden on property owners, as an ad valorem tax would do, should be gratefully received.

Assemblyman Isaac Jones of Ontario claimed the distinction at a dinner in Oakland Saturday night of having discovered a new means of financing the state.

While at the university he was informed a professor in the analytical chemistry department had discovered a process for extracting gold from sea water. The latter estimates there is sufficient precious metal in the briny oceans to provide each person in the United States with about $4,000,000 worth.

If such were the case, however, our gold standard would compare with the German mark. At the same time we must admit Mr. Jones's revelation has Henry Ford and the Leighton co-op. ideas outdistanced as far as making the populace wealthy.

One cannot view the harbors of San Francisco bay without gaining inspiration as to the greater growth of California. The same is true of Los Angeles harbor or the port of Seattle. All serve the great western portion of the American continent, and it is only a matter of time until the Pacific coast will be the leading maritime section of the world.

It is inevitable, with the westward movement of civilization that such shall come to pass. We are building not for today, but for the next ten centuries. Accomplishments now are but a footstool for the giant that is to take a place in the progress of the world.

While it is laughable to think of San Francisco and Los Angeles's boundaries adjoining at some far distant day, the fact that California will be the most densely populated, the most prosperous, the most glorious "front door" to the empires of the Orient gives courage to the most supine to build bigger and better.

The indomitable spirit of San Francisco, the progressive faith of Oakland and the determined spirit of Los Angeles for leadership, all give cause for gratulation on the part of every Californian, native-born or citizen by choice.

HOOVER PLEDGES AID TO CHILDREN

Stigma of High Mortality of Women and Babies to Be Removed

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The vast energies of the American relief administration, which in the past four years has saved from starvation more than 15,000,000 European children, were pledged by Herbert Hoover, to a nation-wide campaign in behalf of the childhood of America.

The unborn babes and their mothers, and the little ones in the congested industrial and backward sections of the nation will be offered a fighting chance in life, by the American Child Health association, headed by Secretary Hoover. This organization will be to America what the A. R. A. has been to the Belgians, and the devastated areas of France and Russia.

Hoover hopes to erase from the United States the stigma of having the highest motherhood and infant mortality rates of the civilized countries of the globe.

Pointing out, in an exclusive interview with International News Service, the importance of translating into American child life, the vast knowledge gained from experience in Europe, Hoover declared the American relief administration, "has undertaken as a voluntary service to guide the executive effort of the newly organized American child health association."

Fourteen Injured in Collapse of Elevator

PITTSBURG, March 20.—Fourteen persons—eight girls and six men—were injured, some reported seriously, when an elevator in the building of Murdock, Kerr & Company, dropped shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. The injured were rushed to the Mercy and Allegheny general hospitals. They were employed in various departments of the big printing establishment.

ART DISPLAY IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

Art Association Plans to Exhibit Works of Many Painters

Through arrangements of the Glendale Art Association a collection of pictures by John W. Cotton, J. S. Schultz and Barton Manbert, Glendale artists, is hung in the juvenile room at the public library. The pictures will be on exhibition for two weeks and then another display will be hung in the library.

Mr. Cotton has several of his wonderful aquatone etchings on display, while Mr. Schultz and Mr. Manbert have several oil paintings hung on exhibit.

"I am greatly pleased over the exhibit," says Mrs. Alma J. Danford, librarian, "and I am hoping that the Glendale Art Association will arrange for continuous exhibits in the library."

It is the plan of the association to have pictures on exhibit throughout the year, and twice a year to have displays by Glendale children. Plans are now being carried out for the organization of a juvenile department of the association.

Regular association meetings are held the first and third Sunday afternoons in each month, with lectures from 4 until 5 o'clock.

C. of C. Forum Meeting To Be Held Thursday

The regular monthly open forum meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce will be held in the auditorium of the Citizens' Building on South Brand boulevard on Thursday night, night, March 22, at 6:30, when dinner will be served. No definite program has been drawn up, but the plans for the year's work that were outlined at the annual meeting a few weeks ago will be discussed, and the guests at the dinner, whether members of the organization or not, will be invited to express their views on the matters that come up for discussion.

The charge for the dinner will be $1, and reservations should be made before Wednesday noon, as only those who notify the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce will be provided for in ordering the dinner.

The fall in the country was also heavy and through the Alleghany mountains this side of Altoona, the Pennsylvania railroad was experiencing some trouble in maintaining running time of its fast trains.

Meline Co. Hosts at Barbecue to Realtors

Invitations have been issued to the members of the Glendale Realty Board by the Frank Meline Company, the owners of Glen Oaks, to attend a barbecue luncheon tomorrow at Glen Oaks, when all the members of the board and their wives and friends will be welcomed by the officials of the company.

The property is located on Sierra avenue, east of Glendale, and is one of the most important subdivisions now being placed before the home buying public.

Haddock Will Address Valley Organizations

The associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando Valley will meet tonight at Pacoima at 6:30, when Lon J. Haddock, president of the Hadock-Nibley Co., will deliver an address.

one Bath a Year.... is it enough?

A BATH every twelve months?

Unthinkable you say. Yet recent figures issued by the Bureau of the census tell us that on the average our suits, coats, and other outer apparel are actually cleaned even less frequently than this.

That suit you wear—if you could sift it; if you could tumble it; if you could clean, rinse and dry it as we do when you send it to us—would yield a full half pound of dust, dirt, and grime.

You owe it to yourself to protect your health from this menace; you owe it to your clothes to keep them freshened up, because clothes thus cleansed last longer.

Send us a few sample things and we will prove it to your permanent satisfaction. Send your suits, gloves, hats, coats, dresses, waists and blouses, and other apparel. In addition to cleaning them for you we will also conserve and sterilize—first by gently sousing in the purest of solvents; next by carefully drying in a breeze of warm, fresh air, and finally, with pressing by a special process which permits live, purifying steam to circulate through every pore of the fabric.

Telephone today and we will call immediately. The benefits which will accrue to you and your clothes will many times repay the small fee which this service costs.

Feminine Eyes Are Everywhere Scanning the Stores for Newest Modes in Shoes

AND at our stores you will find the very latest styles—in fact, everything from the "new King Tut" modes to the modest sandal. Yes, these shoes are here in ample array to satisfy every taste.

In almost no time at all it will be real summer weather, and now is the time to make your selection of shoes. Stocks are complete and have been specially prepared for your approval.

Every pair of shoes was selected for its high quality and for the fact that it is truly representative in every way of the season's newest and most popular styles.

Here's a thought deserving of emphasis—our stores are permanently located in Glendale, our sole purpose is to efficiently and satisfactorily serve Glendale people. When you buy your shoes from us, you receive the courteous and painstaking attention of our organization rather than the hurried attention of the city store which is thinking only of getting your money.

If the possibility should arise that you were not satisfied with any purchase that you have made, you are more than welcome to come to our stores and we will gladly correct any fault.

We plan on deserving your patronage not only today, but tomorrow, next week and next year. To achieve that—we must satisfy our patrons in every respect.
